Located in Grand Forks in the heart of the Red River Valley, the University of North Dakota is the largest and most diversified institution of higher learning in a three-state region. One of fewer than 70 public institutions with both a law school and a medical school, UND consistently ranks by most measures as one of the top 150 universities in the United States. Its nearly 15,000 students – including over 2,860 graduate students, 220 law students, and 290 medical students – come from every state in the union and more than 85 countries.

Grand Forks, N.D., is a classic university town. Located in the heart of the Red River Valley on Interstate 29, the largely residential town offers a community environment with all the amenities of a large urban area and the safety and convenience of a small community, and is within driving distance of great amenities in the region.

Grand Forks has outdoor activities for every season:

- 900 acres of park land with trails, sports fields and courts, lakes, playground equipment.
- The Greenway - 2,200 acres along the Red River
- Twenty miles from Turtle River State Park.
- Five golf courses including King's Walk, the only PGA-rated golf course in North Dakota.
- One-of-a-kind Japanese Garden at Sertoma Park.

Greater Grand Forks is an impressively cosmopolitan city, boasting a regional population of roughly 75,000 residents and spanning two states. Because of its diversity, there's always live theatre, musical performances, art shows or a concert from rock to the Grand Forks Symphony somewhere in Grand Forks:

- Alerus Center
- Empire Arts Center
- Ralph Engelstad Arena complex
- Fire Hall Theatre
- The North Dakota Museum of Art
- Chester Fritz Auditorium
- Grand Cities Art Fest
- First Night Celebration

Wherever one lives in Grand Forks, great shops and restaurants are always within a short distance. Additional commercial growth has sprouted at the southwest end of the city, anchored by the Columbia Mall and Market Place. However, the heart of the Grand Cities is downtown, which spans the Red River. Downtown features a large variety of options and events, from a Farmer's Market at the Town Square to fine dining.

A record-breaking academic year coupled with a history-making season of competition allowed the University of North Dakota to capture its first Big Sky Conference Presidents' Cup in 2016-17.

In its 15th year, the Presidents' Cup promotes the Big Sky's commitment to academics and recognizes a member school's overall success both in the classroom and in competition.

"This is great recognition of the tremendous job that our student-athletes, our coaches, administrative staff and, in particular, the academic support staff have done this year," UND athletics director Brian Faison said. "It's been an incredible year and this award recognizes both athletic accomplishment and academic accomplishment."

"What a special year it's been to win four major championships in the Big Sky and for our student-athletes to have done the job they did, it's been incredible," continued Faison. "And again, it goes back to what's really been the case at North Dakota and that is student really comes first in student-athlete and that's definitely borne out with this award."

The Presidents' Cup is awarded annually to the program that succeeds both academically and athletically, as measured by a variety of categories. Regular-season team standings in eight of the league's 14 sports make up the athletic tier of the Presidents' Cup criteria.

Points are also awarded in men's and women's cross country, indoor and outdoor track and field and golf by virtue of finish at the Big Sky championship. Teams are ranked according to average points per sport.

On the other side, the academic tier measures the academic progress rate (APR) and each team's grade-point averages (GPA) of Big Sky sponsored sports.

"We are extremely proud to receive the Big Sky Conference Presidents' Cup for this previous academic year," said UND President Mark Kennedy. "This achievement represents the tireless efforts of our student-athletes that extend far beyond the fields, rinks, and courts where they compete. It shows that the true spirit of the Fighting Hawks also shows itself in the determination and dedication that these individuals apply in the classrooms and their communities."

Kennedy continued: "I'd like to congratulate all of our student-athletes, coaches, and our entire athletics department for this exceptional accomplishment. University of North Dakota athletics is truly home to leaders in action."

UND secured its first Presidents' Cup victory and became the sixth Big Sky program to win the cup since the award's implementation in 2002-03. The Fighting Hawks placed fifth overall in the athletic standings, winning titles in volleyball and men's basketball, while also finishing as co-champions in football and women's basketball.

Furthermore, UND is the first Big Sky school to win regular-season titles in volleyball, football and men's and women's basketball.

However, it was UND's performance in the classroom that clinched the Presidents' Cup victory. UND had the best APR rating for the fifth consecutive year since joining the Big Sky, scoring a 991.1. It also finished third in team GPA (3.31), with its women's golf team recording a program-best 3.57 GPA.

The foundation of UND's athletics success is the unwavering passion of UND fans, the nation's best.

"I've never been to a place that's more proud of its athletes and its athletics than UND."

— UND All-American, United States Olympian and current Minnesota Wild star Zach Parise

Nate Baukol
Director of Strength and Conditioning

MISSION

It is our mission to physically and mentally prepare the student-athlete for the rigors of collegiate athletics, by implementing professionally designed, scientifically sound training programs, designed specifically to reduce the incidence of injury and help each team and student-athlete reach their full athletic potential.

PHILOSOPHY

We believe that strength and conditioning is crucial to the complete development of the student-athlete. The philosophy of our strength and conditioning program is based on the belief that what occurs in the weight room and field transfers to the playing surface. We train sport specifically with the goal of enhancing athleticism. We also believe in the importance of work ethic, attitude, accountability and mental toughness and that these qualities can be developed and enhanced through our strength and conditioning program.

At the University of North Dakota, one program, functioning behind the scenes, but which should not be taken lightly, is the strength and conditioning program. The strength and conditioning program at UND is among the finest in Division I and vital to the success of all UND athletic teams. The strength and conditioning staff commits themselves to the development of size, strength, power, speed, agility, conditioning, and body composition of each student-athlete. The goal of the strength staff is to develop the athlete and team to reach their maximum potential throughout their career while staying injury free.

Nate Baukol, director of strength and conditioning, oversees the program and facilities. Baukol has three full-time assistant coaches and one graduate assistant coach to assist him.

Together they direct and monitor the training of over 300 student-athletes on 16 teams at UND. UND also boasts some of the finest strength training facilities around. The facilities include weight rooms at the Ralph Engelstad Arena, the Betty Engelstad Sioux Center, Memorial Stadium, and the Hyslop Sports Center.

Training has become a year-round activity, with a student athlete spending as much time on physical development as any other part of their sport throughout the year. Student-athletes follow either off-season or in-season programs, which are individualized specific to the athlete and sport. Off-season programs are five days a week, summer months included.

Each athlete receives a comprehensive summer training manual to follow, given that a member of the strength staff won't be supervising them. In-season programs are typically 45-minute sessions, two to three days per week, supervised by the strength and conditioning staff.

Steve Westereng
Director of Sports Medicine

One of the unfortunate aspects of athletics is that injuries do occur. However, every student-athlete from UND athletics teams are under excellent care thanks to the UND Department of Sports Medicine.

With three full-time athletic trainers -- who are also faculty of the Department of Sports Medicine -- along with three graduate assistant athletic trainers and 30 athletic training students, UND student-athletes are in good hands, returning them quickly and safely to participation.

The Department of Sports Medicine has two primary missions: education and service. The bachelor of science degree in athletic training was the first athletic training education program in the nation to be placed directly in a school of medicine in 1990. Completion of the bachelor of science in athletic training allows the student to sit for the board of certification exam to become a certified athletic trainer (ATC). In order to be accepted into the athletic training program, a student must complete 100 hours of observation, meet core course requirements, fill out a formal application, and have a minimum GPA of 2.75.

UND's progressive thinking makes the institution a leader in the field of athletic training. Moreover, the program's affiliation with the School of Medicine helps both the athletic training student and the student-athlete. The student-athletes benefit from having a wealth of competent individuals getting them back into action and have continuous access to the athletic trainers within the five athletic training facilities used by the student-athletes. The athletic trainers work directly with the team physicians to provide quality healthcare for the more than 400 student-athletes.

The Division Department of Sports Medicine also has an outpatient facility, the UND Center for Sports Medicine, which specializes in rehabilitation of orthopedic injuries. UND student-athletes, as well as the general public, utilize this facility to decrease pain, increase strength, and improve range of motion of injuries. Many of the injuries seen in the Center for Sports Medicine are significant, such as pre- and post-surgical issues.

The Center is staffed by Cathy Ziegler, PT/ATC, and Jake Thompson, PT/ATC, who have experience with high school, college, and professional athletes.

Whether it is reading to area school children or lending their time to countless charitable organizations or providing disaster relief, UND's student-athletes pride themselves on their community involvement and have long been looked upon as pillars within the UND and Grand Forks communities. In 2015-16 alone, UND student-athletes logged a school-record 9,153 hours of community service.

The University of North Dakota boasts a proud history of varsity athletics nicknames. UND's first official nickname was the "Flickertails," although its origin remains somewhat a mystery. The nickname made its first public appearance in a Grand Forks Herald account of UND's football loss to Minnesota on Oct. 8, 1904, 15 years after UND's first athletics contest was played. According to Lee Bohnet's A Century of UND Sports, "the author was not identified, but there is strong evidence the nickname was coined by a Minneapolis sportswriter who may have covered the game for the Herald. The writer lauded the fighting spirit of the North Dakota players."

In 1911, UND's student body officially adopted "Flickertails" as its nickname. UND would remain known as the "Flickertails" (as well, unofficially, as the "Nodaks") for a third of a century, establishing an early athletics history.

In the fall of 1930, the university adopted the nickname "Sioux" for its varsity teams following a successful renaming campaign by the Dakota Student, UND's student newspaper. The word "Fighting" was later added and UND would be known as the "Fighting Sioux" until the summer of 2012.

The university utilized several "Fighting Sioux" logos throughout the decades, perhaps most notably the green geometric logo introduced in 1976 and the most recent full-color logo was unveiled in 1999. The former was designed by an artist at the UND News Bureau with input from American Indian students, while the latter was created by noted Native American artist and UND alum Bennett Brien.

The University of North Dakota officially retired its longtime "Fighting Sioux" nickname and logo prior to the 2012-13 athletics season. Following the retirement of the Fighting Sioux nickname, UND's varsity athletics teams operated without an official nickname for three seasons.

On Nov. 18, 2015, UND began a new chapter in its athletics history when President Robert Kelley announced that 'Fighting Hawks' would be the University's new athletics nickname effective immediately.

With a new nickname selected, Kelley also announced that the University would begin the process of developing, selecting and implementing a visual identity to accompany the name. In June 2016, Interim President Edward T. Schafer introduced the new Fighting Hawks primary mark (top right) at a ceremony at the UND Athletics High Performance Center.

Following the University's first athletic competition in 1889, UND's earliest teams were known unofficially as the "Nodaks" (pictured above is the 1896 football team). The "Flickertails" nickname made its first appearance in a 1904 Grand Forks Herald article and was officially adopted in 1911.

UND adopted its current Fighting Hawks mark in June 2016. The primary logo features a stoic hawk head icon emphasized by a resolute hawk eye to personify the persistence, hard work and determination of UND student-athletes. The icon rests within an "ND" ligature to place UND Athletics at the heart of North Dakota.

The University of North Dakota adopted the interlocking ND as its official logo during the summer of 2012 following the retirement of the Fighting Sioux nickname and logo. The interlocking ND served as UND Athletics' primary logo until June 2016.

UND's most recent Fighting Sioux logo, designed by noted Native American artist and UND alum Bennett Brien, was unveiled in 1999. The logo was named the No. 1 hockey logo in the world by The Hockey News in 2009.

The geometric Fighting Sioux logo was introduced in 1976 and remained in use through the 1999-2000 season.

The current University of North Dakota logo has been in use since the close of Centennial year activities in 1984. It serves as the official logo of the University, but typically is not used for athletics purposes.

PRESIDENT

Mark Kennedy

Mark Kennedy began his duties July 1 as the 12th president of the University of North Dakota, succeeding Interim President Ed Schafer and President Robert Kelley, who retired on Jan. 14, 2016. Kennedy was appointed to the position by the State Board of Higher Education on March 15, 2016.

Kennedy came to UND from George Washington University, where since 2012 he was Director of the Graduate School of Political Management and Professor. His teaching and research addressed issues of how organizations can engage governments and societies around the world.

A native of Benson, Minnesota, Kennedy earned a B.S. degree at St. John's University, Collegeville, Minnesota, and an MBA with distinction at the University of Michigan Ross School of Business. He then served as an executive with several firms, including Pillsbury, and today's Macy's.

From 2001 to 2007, Kennedy served in the U.S. House of Representatives, first for Minnesota's Second District and then for its Sixth District. He served on the Financial Services, Transportation and Agriculture Committees, and established a reputation for bipartisanship. Kennedy was then appointed to the Advisory Committee on Trade Policy and Negotiations, serving under both Presidents George Bush and Barack Obama.

From 2007 to 2010, Kennedy served as the Global Retail Business Development Lead for Accenture, a global management, consulting and technology firm. From 2010 to 2013, he lectured and led research projects at the University of Pennsylvania, Notre Dame, the London Business School and others, and served as an Executive in Residence at the Johns Hopkins University Carey Business School.

Kennedy is the founder of the Economic Club of Minnesota and a member of the Council on Foreign Relations and Chatham House, an independent policy institute based in London. He founded the Mark Kennedy Frontiers of Freedom Lecture Series at St. John's University.

Kennedy's book, tentatively titled "Engaging to Win -- When to Collaborate, When to Compete, Succeeding at Both," will be published by Columbia Business School Press in spring 2017. In it, he introduces the concept of "shapeholders" to the field of business strategy. A shapeholder is a political, regulatory, media or activist actor with no stake in an organization's success, but great ability to shape its opportunities and risks.

Kennedy is the third generation of his family to live in North Dakota. His grandmother helped homestead outside Tioga in the early 1900s, and his parents lived in Golva and Hunter, during which time his older sister was born in Fargo.

First Lady Debbie Kennedy is a native of Hawley, Minnesota. They met at the Minnesota State Fair as high school 4-H ambassadors. Debbie Kennedy graduated from North Dakota State University with a double major in home economics and textile and clothing, and from George Washington University with a master's degree in costume design. They have four adult children.

Sue Jenó, Faculty Athletics Representative

Sue Jenó, an associate professor in UND's Department of Physical Therapy, serves as the Faculty Athletics Representative (FAR) to the National Collegiate Athletics Association (NCAA), a position she has held the position since November 2006.

Jenó has served as a member of UND's Intercollegiate Athletics Committee (IAC) since 2001, as well as numerous other university committees, and was the chair of the University Senate during the 2005-06 academic year. She is also active in her professional organization, having served as treasurer of the North Dakota Physical Therapy Association.

Jenó is a former NCAA Division I student-athlete and coach. After competing for the University of Michigan varsity synchronized swimming team, she graduated and served as an assistant coach for the Wolverines for two seasons.

ATHLETICS DIRECTOR

Brian Faison

Brian Faison, the 2017 Under Armour FCS Athletic Director of the Year, is in his 10th year as athletics director at the University of North Dakota. Faison assumed his duties at UND in May of 2008.

The 2016-17 year was a banner one for UND as it collected the Big Sky Presidents' Cup for the first time after becoming the first league school to ever claim four major conference titles in the same season (volleyball, football, women's basketball, men's basketball). Academically, North Dakota also had the best APR rating for the fifth consecutive year since joining the Big Sky, scoring a 991.1. It also finished third in team GPA (3.31), with its women's golf team recording a program-best 3.57 GPA.

During his tenure UND has successfully completed the five-year reclassification process to Division I. Alumni and fan support have continued to grow: Champions Club and endowment giving have enjoyed 10 straight record years; $18.8 million in private funding was secured for the first phase of the UND Athletics High Performance Center, which opened in Fall 2015; and last year men's ice hockey led the nation in attendance.

Media coverage has continued to grow with multi-year, multi-sport broadcast agreements with Midco Sports Network and Fox College Sports for television, iHeart Media and Midwest Radio Fargo-Moorhead for radio, and continuing expansion of all social media platforms.

In the classroom, student-athletes continued to excel. This past year, nearly 75% of UND's student-athletes were named to the Athletic Director's Honor Roll for the Fall and Spring semesters, more than 200 earned academic all-conference honors, four received CoSIDA Academic All-District honors, two student-athletes were named CoSIDA Academic All-Americans and two received NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarships.

Nearly 8,000 hours of community service were provided to the community by our student-athletes in 2016-17.

Faison has helped secure membership in the Big Sky Conference (BSC) and 13 teams will complete the move to a more regional footprint in the Summit League (basketball, golf, softball, soccer, tennis, track & field/cross country, and volleyball) in 2018-19 while football will take residence in the Missouri Valley Football Conference in 2020.

He also played a leadership role in the formation of the National Collegiate Hockey Conference (NCHC) partnering with Colorado College, Denver, Miami, Minnesota Duluth, St. Cloud State, Western Michigan and Nebraska Omaha.

With over 35 years of experience in intercollegiate athletics, Faison has served on several conference, regional and national sports committees. Most recently he chaired the NCHC Board of Directors for two years and chaired the BSC Joint Council. Faison currently serves on the BSC Administration Committee, and the NCAA Division I Men's Hockey Committee. the latter of which he has also served as chair.

Prior to joining UND Faison served as special assistant to the president (2004-08) and director of athletics (1999-04) at New Mexico State University. Before that, he was national director of development for the National Children's Cancer Society (1995-99). Faison also served as director of athletics at Indiana State University (1988-95), assistant athletics director for development at the University of Louisville (1984-88) and assistant athletics director for promotions and fund raising at Illinois State University (1979-84). He also had stints as assistant manager for athletics public relations (1978-79) and assistant director for alumni activities (1974-78) at the University of Missouri.

Faison is a 1972 graduate of the University of Missouri. He and his wife Donna have three sons: Jonathan, Matthew and Bradley, and a grandson Harrison.

The Betty Engelstad Sioux Center, located on the UND campus, is the home of North Dakota volleyball. Affectionately dubbed “The Betty,” the Betty Engelstad Sioux Center opened its doors prior to the 2004-05 season, replacing the historic Hyslop Sports Center.

The multi-million dollar facility is adjacent to the renowned Ralph Engelstad Arena and also serves as the home of UND basketball.

Named in honor of longtime UND benefactor Betty Engelstad, the widow of Ralph Engelstad, the arena seats approximately 3,000 fans and provides the UND volleyball teams with a home-court advantage that is second to none.

The building was officially dedicated with a ribbon-cutting ceremony on August 24, 2004, attended by the Engelstad family and distinguished guests.

About Betty Engelstad

Elizabeth “Betty” Stocker was born January 1, 1933 in East Grand Forks, Minn., the daughter of Fred and Mary Stocker. Betty married Ralph Engelstad in 1954 and together they had one daughter, Kris Engelstad McGarry. Keeping with her late husband’s generous financial contributions, Betty has emerged as a philanthropist in her own right, gifting to various charitable organizations.

As the newest addition to the Ralph Engelstad Arena complex, the Betty Engelstad Sioux Center is a lasting tribute to Betty Engelstad and the ongoing support and shared vision of the University of North Dakota and the Engelstad family.

Betty continues to reside in Las Vegas, Nev., near her daughter, son-in-law and two grandchildren.

MARK PRYOR

HEAD COACH

Year at UND: 4th year
Collegiate experience: 19th year
Hometown: Coppell, Texas
Alma Mater: Baylor, 1995

- Fourth season (73-32 at UND)
- *2016 Big Sky Conference regular season champions
- 2016 Big Sky Conference tournament champions
- 2016 NCAA Tournament appearance
- 2016 Big Sky Conference Coach of the Year
- 2014 Big Sky North Division champs

In Mark Pryor's three seasons at the helm at the University of North Dakota, he's led the team to three straight 20-win seasons, a pair of school-record-tying win totals and the school's first NCAA Division I Tournament appearance. Overall at UND, Pryor has a 73-32 record.

His 2016 squad was a history-making team that won 19 of its last 22 matches, including an incredible 11-match winning streak that ended the regular season and swept right through the Big Sky Conference Tournament. All told, UND dropped just three sets combined in that run, ending Northern Arizona's 25-match home winning streak, the second-longest active streak in all of NCAA, en route to the regular season league title. UND would win it outright two days later with a sweep of Northern Colorado on the regular season's finale and grabbed the top seed in the league tournament. Once there, North Dakota continued its dominance with three convincing sweeps for the school's first league tournament title and subsequent berth in the NCAA Division I Tournament.

The year was filled with accolades as Pryor was the Big Sky Conference Coach of the Year, his third different coach of the year honor in his career. He mentored the league's player of the year (setter Sydney Griffin), part of four first-team all-league honorees (Chelsea Moser, Faith Dooley, Tamara Merseli)– the first time a school has laid claim to four first teamers. Griffin also picked up the school's first All-America honorable mention at the D-I level, earning accolades from Volleyball Magazine. Merseli was also dubbed the league's newcomer of the year.

Those four would also earn Big Sky Conference All-Tournament team plaudits with Dooley snatching Most Valuable Player. That quartet helped lead UND to a tournament-record .448 hitting percentage in a win over Idaho State in the semifinals en route to an impressive .308 combined hitting percentage for the whole tourney (third-best in league tournament history).

Pryor's 2015 squad etched the program's highest-ranked victory in its Division I history with a win over Dayton, who finished the season ranked No. 22 in the RPI.

McKenzie Hart led all of NCAA Division I in digs per set in 2015, the second time in his coaching career that he's mentored a player that has led the nation in that category. He is the only coach in the NCAA to have a player lead the NCAA in digs per set for an entire season at both the NCAA Division II and Division I level. Hart would be named the Libero of the Year for a second straight season by the Big Sky Conference and was an AVCA All-Region performer as a senior.

His program has led the Big Sky in total digs in each of the last three seasons and has a perfect record of 13-0 in November regular season matches in his UND tenure. His teams have a knack for out-lasting opponents, notching a 12-5 record in five-set matches.

The incoming class of 2015 freshmen earned praise nationally with high honorable mention status by PrepVolleyball.com. His 2012 and 2013 recruiting classes at Baylor, where he spent the previous four years as the associate head coach, were both ranked in the top 20 nationally.

Overall at UND, Pryor has a 73-32 record in his three seasons at UND. His 2014 and 2016 squads each tied the school record for wins (26). His first team claimed the Big Sky Conference North Division and also earned the school's first win at the league's postseason tournament. Last season's team saw the school's first tournament hosting duties, a conference postseason title and an NCAA Tournament berth.

Accolades were plentiful for his inaugural team as four players were lauded by the league. Seniors Nikki Husfeldt and Lexi Robinson were each honored on the All-Big Sky First Team while Faith Dooley was dubbed the Freshman of the Year and a second teamer with junior McKenzie Hart grabbing the Libero of the Year.

Pryor was introduced as the 12th head volleyball coach in program history on Jan. 28, 2014. The 15-year collegiate coaching veteran arrived in Grand Forks following a four-year stint as the associate head coach and recruiting coordinator at Baylor.

Pryor returned to coaching following a brief stint away from the profession in 2008 to lead the NCAA Division II program at Texas A&M-Commerce. As the head coach in Commerce, he led the Lions to back-to-back winning seasons, including a 25-10 mark in his last season. Pryor was named the Lone Star Conference Coach of the Year for his efforts during the 2009 season and tutored the conference's offensive player of the year.

Pryor's previous Division I head coaching stint was as the head coach at Louisiana-Monroe in 2005 when he guided the Warhawks to a 15-15 record. Prior to his arrival, the program had averaged just four overall wins and one Southland Conference win for the past 10 seasons. For his efforts, he was named the 2005 Southland Coach of the Year.

Pryor's first collegiate coaching job was also with the Warhawks as an assistant coach during the 1997 season. He obtained his master's degree in public relations/communication from ULM while serving on staff there.

In the seven seasons between his stops in Monroe, Pryor served in a variety of roles that included head coaching jobs at North Central Texas College (1998; NJCAA) and Southwest Baptist University (2001-02, NCAA DII) and assistant coaching positions at New Mexico State (1999), USA Volleyball (2001) and Boise State (2003-04).

Pryor has a bachelor's degrees in speech communication and journalism from Baylor. He and wife, Amanda, have two sons, Miles and Mason.

WELCOME BACK

Excitement abounds with the coming season as three of UND's four All-Big Sky Conference First Teamers are back for their senior seasons. Included in that mix is the league's player of the year and the school's first-ever Division I all-America player (VolleyballMagazine.com honorable mention) setter Sydney Griffin. She'll once again have plenty of weapons at her disposal with three-time all-league middle hitter Faith Dooley and last season's conference newcomer of the year Tamara Merseli.

Also returning is sophomore Alivia Fraase, who nailed down the libero gig as a redshirt freshman last year and tallied 583 digs, tied for second-most in school history. Also in the back is junior Tamika Brekke, a starter in the final nine contests last year in the back, and senior Teodora Tepavac, who led the returnees in service aces a season ago. A healthy Julia Kaczorowska also returns after seeing her last two seasons cut short. North Dakota is just 5-4 in matches that she has missed or left early due to injury over the past two years combined (42-19 in matches she finished).

The middle opening left by graduating senior Chelsea Moser could be gobbled up by junior Jordan Vail, who showed flashes of dominance in limited action last year. She hit .304 with 100 kills and could be a force at the net. Ashley Brueggeman will figure to be heavily involved in the offense again after contributing 209 kills in her rookie campaign last season.

DEFENSE BEGINS EARLY

Last year, North Dakota rattled off 11 straight wins down the stretch, losing just three sets along the way to earn a regular season conference crown followed by a successful league tournament en route to the first-ever NCAA Division I Tournament in program history.

"We talked about last year, if you want to be the last one standing, you've got to be the first one that's willing to get in the gym early," fourth-year UND head coach Mark Pryor (73-32 at UND) said. "We're going to have the same thing this year. We've got to be willing to commit to those things and recognize where our growth is for us to be good."

CHANGING THE MINDSET

"Last year there was some innocence to it, we didn't clinch the regular season outright until the last day," Pryor admitted. "The kids hadn't experienced it before and having them understand this year that if they can just embrace today and have a lot of energy today, it eases up tomorrow. If we do our job specifically well and focus on our things-- if we're the biggest, most physical team and we control the ball enough-- we're going to be in position we want to be at the end of the year. We can't win it tonight, but setting the tone that we're going to be in every game."

It'll be a tough non-conference once again for UND, who will play 10 matches in the first two weekends before even getting a home match under its belt. A trip to Ole Miss gets things started for four matches at the Rebel Invitational then a Sunday excursion to Georgia Tech (Aug. 27). That next weekend sees North Dakota head the other direction for matches at New Mexico State (2) and UTEP (3). September 6 is the home opener and it is against in-state rival North Dakota State, so no respite before the three-match UND Classic that weekend.

The Big Sky Conference season begins Sep. 21 as the Fighting Hawks will have to play six of their first eight league matches on the road. UND lost just two league road matches last season and went undefeated at home in conference play, taking an 11-match home winning streak into 2017.

Above: North Dakota's attendance consistently ranks in the top 50 of all NCAA Division I programs. Last season, UND ranked 42nd in all of NCAA Division I with an average 1,090 per match. That total led all Big Sky Conference schools. UND's home opener with Omaha drew 2,056 fans, the fourth-highest ever at the Betty for volleyball and best attended in a non-NDSU match.

Below: Senior Faith Dooley needs just 12 blocks to eclipse the all-time record for total blocks (488). She owns three of the top four single-season records for blocks in school history.

OGDEN, Utah-- The defending Big Sky Conference regular season and tournament champions are the overwhelming favorite to repeat in the 2017 league coaches poll. North Dakota received 10 of a possible 11 first-place votes (coaches cannot vote for their own team) and compiled 120 total points, 17 more than runner-up Northern Colorado (2 first-place nods).

Rivals UND and Northern Colorado, who played in the regular season finale to determine who would host the league tournament, will once again meet on the final date of the year, a Nov. 11 match at the Betty Engelstad Sioux Center. Just behind the Bears in the poll was Sacramento State (99), the Big Sky South Division champ last season. Northern Arizona (96) was close behind with Portland State (82) rounding out the top five.

“Who knows where each team will end up? These preseason polls are just guessing,” UND head coach Mark Pryor admits. “There are so many uncontrollable things out there that we simply have no say in, so why even waste a second thinking about that?”

“All we are trying to do is just get a little better in the gym today than we were yesterday. We aren’t even talking about the Big Sky Conference as a team or even as a staff. We are concerning ourselves with today, not six weeks from now. When the time comes to focus on that we will. It is wasted energy for us to focus on the future. We are working hard to commit our energy and effort on today, and today alone.”

North Dakota returns a bevy of talent, including three All-Big Sky Conference First Team members. Senior setter Sydney Griffin was the conference player of the year and will distribute to a pair of lethal weapons in senior middle hitter Faith Dooley (a three-time all-league player) and Tamara Merseli (2016 Big Sky Newcomer of the Year). Also back are starters sophomore Ashley Brueggeman (209 kills last year), and backrow players junior Tamika Brekke (1.97 digs/set) and sophomore libero Alivia Fraese (583 digs in 2016, second-most in UND history). Additionally, senior Julia Kaczorowska (530 career kills), junior middle Jordan Vail (.304 hit percentage in '16) and senior Teodora Tepavac (2.44 digs/set) give the Fighting Hawks a deep, talented roster.

Fourth-year head coach Mark Pryor guided the squad to a 26-10 campaign, tied for the most wins in school history as the team advanced to the program’s first NCAA Division I Tournament. The reigning Big Sky Coach of the Year owns a 73-32 mark at UND, including three-straight 20-win seasons.

NORTH DAKOTA VOLLEYBALL

FIRST TEAM ALL-CONFERENCE

FAITH DOOLEY TAMARA MERSELI
SYDNEY GRIFFIN CHELSEA MOSER

#UNDPROUD

A Big Sky-record four UND players earned first team all-league accolades at the season's end with Faith Dooley, Tamara Merseli, Sydney Griffin and Chelsea Moser all earning honors. Griffin was the conference player of the year and Merseli was tabbed the league's top newcomer.

WHAT'S GOOD?

*North Dakota won its second Big Sky Conference regular season title, its first since 2013.

*UND has qualified for the Big Sky Tournament every season it's been in the league, for five consecutive appearances

*UND made its first-ever NCAA Division I Tournament appearance (2002, 2003 in Division II)

*North Dakota led the conference in total digs (2,228) and ranked 7th in the nation in that category

*UND also set the pace in team blocks

(325.0), ranking 15th in NCAA D-1

*Sydney Griffin's 1,316 assists ranked 19th in the NCAA.

*Faith Dooley (477) is 12 total blocks away from breaking the school's all-time blocks record (488- Karla Danielson).

*Head coach Mark Pryor was named the 2016 Big Sky Conference Coach of the Year, the third different league he has claimed that honor (2009- Lone Star Conference, 2005-Southland Conference)

*UND's record of 26-10 gave Mark Pryor a three-year total of 73 wins, tied for most in any three-year span at UND.

*It was the second-highest win total (94) for a graduating class (96: 2008-2011)

*UND lost just 14 sets in the entire Big Sky schedule (16 matches).

STREAK KILLERS?

North Dakota dismantled the nation's second-longest home winning streak when it took out Northern Arizona's 25-match run with a 3-0 win Nov. 10 in Flagstaff, Ariz.

WIN RECORD TIED AGAIN

North Dakota tied the school record for wins with 26, the second time it has done that in Coach Pryor's tenure. UND also clinched its fourth straight 20+ win season and its eighth in the last nine seasons. Since moving to NCAA Division I in 2008, UND has a combined record of 185-75 (.712). Prior to that, UND had just seven 20+ win seasons (from 1976-2007) and a winning percentage of .426.

FIGHTING HAWKS ON ALL-BIG SKY TEAMS

Junior setter Sydney Griffin headlined a group of four UND players honored on the All-Big Sky Conference First Team. Griffin became the first UND volleyball player to earn Most Valuable Player honors as accolades came in bunches for the regular season and tourney champion Fighting Hawks. Tamara Merseli was named the Newcomer of the Year while Faith Dooley and Chelsea Moser each grabbed All-Big Sky First Team nods to give UND four players on the first team, a first in Big Sky Conference history.

CRAZY RUN TO THE NCAA TOURNAMENT

North Dakota rattled off 11 straight wins en route to the NCAA Tournament, losing just three sets along the way. UND swept each of its last five matches in that span and totaled 16 wins via sweep this season.

MR. NOVEMBER

Head coach Mark Pryor's UND teams have gone 13-0 in November regular-season matches in his three seasons and are 17-2 in November altogether.

HITTING HIGHLIGHTS

UND hit .448 against Idaho State in the Big Sky Conference Tournament, setting a new single-match Big Sky Tournament record. It was North Dakota's highest team hitting percentage since a 3-0 drubbing of in-state rival North Dakota State (.500) (Sep. 30, 2013).

GIMME FIVE

UND is 13-5 in five-set matches in the tenure of third-year coach Mark Pryor. In his last three schools along his head coaching stops, Pryor has a improbable 25-8 record in five-set matches. Here are the totals:

Years	School	Record in 5-set matches
2014-16	North Dakota	13-5
2008-09	Texas A&M-Comm	8-1
2005	Louisiana Monroe	4-2
2001-02	Southwest Baptist	1-8

TAKING A SET FROM THE GOPHERS AT HOME

During Minnesota's 17-0 run at home last season, just seven teams mustered a set win over the Gophers. All of them (Michigan State, Michigan, Nebraska, Wisconsin-2, Ohio State, Missouri and North Dakota -1) made the NCAA Tournament.

DOOLEY 1,000

Faith Dooley became just the 17th UND player all-time to reach 1,000 kills in her career and the fifth to do so as a junior. She currently sits at 1,020 kills heading into her senior season.

DOMINANT DOWN THE STRETCH

North Dakota steam-rolled into the NCAA Tournament with an 11-match winning streak, a dominant stretch that saw UND lose just three sets combined. UND had won 17 of its last 18 matches overall at that point as well.

BACK-TO-BACK JACK

Tamara Merseli gave UND back-to-back Big Sky Conference Defensive Players of the Week thanks to her efforts Oct. 6-8 against Sacramento State and Portland State. She registered double-doubles in both wins, piling up 58 digs, including a career-best 30 in the Oct. 8 win vs. the Vikings.

YOU BETCHA!

North Dakota ranked 42nd in all of NCAA Division I in average attendance with 1,090 per match. That total led all Big Sky Conference schools. UND's home opener with Omaha drew 2,056 fans, the fourth-highest ever at the Betty for volleyball and best attended in a non-NDSU match.

POWER TRIP

North Dakota zapped another "Power 5 Conference" school (ACC, SEC, PAC-12, Big 10 or Big 12) with its 3-1 win over the ACC's Clemson on Sep. 8. UND previously downed Mississippi State from the SEC back in 2014.

DOOLEY DOING WORK

Junior Faith Dooley powered North Dakota to a pair of huge sweeps in the last week of the regular season, ending Northern Arizona's 25-match home winning streak and then vaulting past Northern Colorado on Nov. 12 to earn the top seed for the tournament. For her efforts, she was named the Big Sky Conference Offensive Player of the Week. She hammered down 25 kills on just 36 swings for an average of 4.17 kills per set along with a scorching .583 hitting percentage for the week. She finished with a match-high 14 kills on 20 swings with just three errors at NAU then followed that up with 11 kills on 16 swings with just one error in the regular season finale vs. UNC.

RPI RAMBLINGS

North Dakota finished with a sparkling 92 in the Ratings Percentage Index, its third year under the 100 mark. UND has never finished lower than 170 in its eight years of eligibility in the RPI in NCAA Division I, averaging 114 in that span.

The Big Sky Conference enters its 55th year and 30th year of women's competition during the 2017-18 academic year.

Four of the current league members – Idaho State University, The University of Montana, Montana State and Weber State – have been with the league since its birth. Fellow charter member the University of Idaho returned most of its sports to the Big Sky on July 1, 2014. Northern Arizona University enters its 47th season in the league, giving the league five members with at least 40 years of continuous membership.

The Big Sky Conference welcomed North Dakota and Southern Utah on July 1, 2012 as full members. UC Davis and Cal Poly joined as football affiliate members. Eastern Washington University, the University of Northern Colorado, Portland State University and Sacramento State round out the current membership.

The league has become one of the strongest Division I conferences in the West and is a national leader in the Football Championship Subdivision. Six times, Big Sky teams have won the Division I National Championship, including Eastern Washington in 2010. The Big Sky is one of three conferences in the western United States playing Division I football.

The Big Sky Conference was established in 1963 by six charter members – Idaho, Idaho State, Gonzaga, Montana, Montana State and Weber State. Those six schools formed the foundation of the Big Sky before the league expanded in 1970 by adding Boise State and Northern Arizona. Gonzaga left the Sky in 1979 and was replaced by Nevada, which gave the league eight members. The conference grew to nine schools in 1987 with the addition of Eastern Washington.

The 1990s saw change in the makeup of the league, beginning in 1992 when Nevada departed and put the Big Sky back at eight teams. In 1996 Boise State and Idaho left and at the same time the conference added Portland State, Sacramento State and Cal State Northridge. The Big Sky maintained nine teams for five years before Cal State Northridge departed in the spring of 2001.

The Big Sky's full members represent nine states spanning from the Pacific Ocean to the Red River Valley of North Dakota. The league is represented along the entire west coast with institutions in Washington, Oregon and California. League schools also range up and down the Rocky Mountains with institutions in Montana, Idaho, Utah, Arizona and Colorado. It is "The Heart of the American West."

On Feb 25, 1963, the name Big Sky was adopted by the six presidents of the charter members as the name of the new conference. The name Big Sky originated in a novel written by the late A.B. (Bud) Guthrie of Great Falls, Mont., in 1947 entitled "The Big Sky." Jack Hollowell, a former Montana advertising director, promoted the Big Sky theme for the Treasure State. While on a track and field trip from Pocatello, Idaho, to Missoula, Mont., legendary Dubby Holt of Idaho State saw a "Welcome to Big Sky Country" sign as his team entered Montana. Holt, and his athletes thought "Big Sky" would be a perfect name for the new conference. Harry Missildine of the Spokane Spokesman-Review called for the newly formed league to be named the Big Sky Conference in his column dated Feb. 20, 1963.

The Big Sky sponsors championships in 16 sports, including men's and women's cross country, indoor and outdoor track and field, basketball and tennis. In addition, there are also championships in football, and women's volleyball, golf and soccer. The Big Sky sponsored softball for the first time in 2013. Men's golf returned as a championship sport in 2014-15 for the first time since 2002. The University of Hartford and Binghamton University have joined the Big Sky as affiliate members in golf.

Andrea Williams, the sixth commissioner of the Big Sky Conference, is in her 1st year at the helm. Williams took over the Big Sky on July 1, 2016, replacing longtime commissioner Doug Fullerton. Fullerton served the league for 21 years. Ron Stephenson, who passed away in 2011, preceded Fullerton. Serving as commissioner from 1981 through June 1995. Steve Belko was the commissioner from 1977-81, while John Roning held the post from 1971-77. The first league commissioner was Jack Friel, who served from 1963-71.

North Dakota is the first institution to join The Summit League since Oral Roberts rejoined the conference on July 1, 2014. North Dakota is the first institution to join the Missouri Valley Football Conference since South Dakota on July 1, 2012.

The Summit League will mark UND's third Division I conference after reclassifying in the Great West (2009-2012) and spending the last six seasons in the Big Sky (2012-18).

Founded in 1883, UND has built a well-respected tradition of athletics and academic excellence. UND athletics teams have won 12 NCAA championships, including eight in Division I men's ice hockey (second-most only to Michigan's nine), three in Division II women's basketball and one in Division II football, and 127 individual NCAA championships.

UND has also won 150 conference team championships in the Great West Conference, North Central Conference (NCC), Western Collegiate Hockey Association (WCHA) and the National Collegiate Hockey Conference (NCHC). The long history of team success has resulted in national recognition for the well over 1,500 UND student-athletes who have garnered All-America honors.

The University of North Dakota has accepted an invitation to join The Summit League beginning with the 2018-19 academic year following six years in the Big Sky Conference.

"This is an important move for UND Athletics and for our fans," UND President Mark Kennedy said. "We have appreciated our time in the Big Sky Conference and we thank our friends in that conference for their hospitality and the opportunity to have competed against some excellent teams. But we are excited to renew long-treasured rivalries in joining many of our former conference companions in The Summit League and the Missouri Valley Football Conference. We look forward to competitions that are closer to home, which will allow our fans to attend more away games, and we look forward to hosting our long-time rivals and their fans in Grand Forks."

UND will officially join The Summit League on July 1, 2018, and Missouri Valley Football Conference July 1, 2020 but will begin working immediately with the current membership on scheduling, marketing, and other conference matters.

Since making the transition to NCAA Division I competition in 2008-09, UND's student-athletes have earned 25 Academic All-America honors, 10 NCAA Postgraduate Scholarships, and five prestigious NCAA academic awards.

"I think that The Summit League will allow us to continue to grow in attendance with more regional rivalries," UND head volleyball coach Mark Pryor said at the time of the announcement.
